

CFL Pre-Season Game to be Held at Huskies Stadium

The Canadian Football League (CFL) will kick-off the season with an exhibition game at Huskies Stadium in Halifax. The game, between Grey Cup Champion Toronto Argonauts and celebrated rival Hamilton Tiger-Cats, will be broadcast live on TSN.

Fred MacGillivray, President and CEO of Trade Centre Limited and Chair of Events Halifax, the group that spearheaded the drive to bring the event to Halifax, stated: We are honoured to have been chosen as the host city – it's a strong affirmation of our reputation and experience as a successful events destination. The CFL is a great Canadian institution, with a coast-to-coast audience – this is a unique promotional opportunity, and we look forward to "showing off Halifax" once again.

CFL Commissioner Tom Wright applauded the efforts of Moncton and Halifax, cities who both sought the opportunity to host the 2005 game. "We were welcomed and embraced by two great cities during the process of selecting a site. While Halifax is a deserving choice and Huskies Stadium a great venue, both cities provided excellent plans for the game and surrounding celebrations. The 2005 game will be in Halifax but we hope to be able to take our game to Moncton at a later date."

The Toronto Argonauts and the Hamilton Tiger-Cats, two of the oldest and more storied teams in professional sport with histories dating back to 1873 and 1869 respectively, will take to the field at Huskies Stadium on June 11, 2005. Further details on game timing and ticket prices will be announced shortly.

The Canadian Football League (CFL) operates in nine leading cities across Canada. The 93rd Grey Cup will be played in Vancouver, British Columbia on November 27, 2005. For more information, visit www.cfl.ca.

Trade Centre Limited Seals Strategic Partnership with Oland Brewery

Trade Centre Limited is pleased to announce a three-year strategic partnership agreement with Oland Brewery, maker of Alexander Keith's India Pale Ale. The partnership will include joint promotional opportunities, advertising, staff education and access to a wide range of local, national and international beer brands, including Keith's, at Trade Centre Limited properties.

"This partnership is a natural fit," said Fred MacGillivray, President and CEO of Trade Centre Limited. "Oland is a prominent and long-standing Halifax company with a heritage of quality and hospitality. We are in the business of "bringing people together" through business hospitality and entertainment events. Together we can leverage our experience and strengths."

Close to eight of every 10 beers sold in Nova Scotia is a Labatt product, led by Alexander Keith's, which has been brewed in Halifax since 1820. In 2003, beer sales at the three Trade Centre Limited venues totalled 1,700 hectolitres, the equivalent of approximately 500,000 bottles.

Oland Brewery operates Nova Scotia's largest brewery in the north end of Halifax as well as the Alexander Keith's Nova Scotia Brewery on the Halifax waterfront. Oland's President, Paul Gurr, stresses the partnership nature of the agreement between the two companies. "As with all true partnerships, there are benefits for both companies. Many of the Trade Centre Limited properties' patrons are already our customers but haven't been able to readily access our extensive portfolio of brands - this is a tremendous opportunity," said Gurr. "At the same time, we can now enhance the entertainment and hospitality experiences of Trade Centre Limited's customers with the expertise of our people and our services."

The partnership will include training of Trade Centre Limited's 200 serving staff on the importance of proper pouring and serving techniques as integral aspects of the overall beer experience. Oland quality managers and category managers will also consult with Trade Centre Limited staff on various aspects of their beer operations.

The partnership officially begins in January 2005 and will run through 2007.

CIS Men's Basketball Championship continues in Halifax in 2006/07

Trade Centre Limited congratulates Atlantic University Sport on the CIS decision to continue staging the annual Men's Basketball Championship in Halifax Metro Centre through 2006 and 2007. 2008 will be the 25th anniversary of the event, and Fred MacGillivray, President & CEO of Trade Centre Limited, is optimistic that Halifax will also mark that milestone event - in the Halifax Metro Centre!

Phil Currie, Executive Director of Atlantic University Sport and John Patterson, Chair of the CIS Men's Basketball Organizing Committee were in Ottawa last week for the bid presentation and made the announcement at a media conference December 3rd at the World Trade and Convention Centre, Halifax.

With strong bids from both the Atlantic University Sport and Carleton University, Halifax's ultimate win was attributed to Halifax's bidding advantages of a loyal fan base, an experienced volunteer base and strong sponsorship support.

The 2005 Championship marks the 22nd consecutive year the CIS Men's Basketball Tournament has been hosted in Halifax and the event accounts for a total or gross economic impact of $19.45 million in total spending and $8.1 million in incremental or direct spending (Economic Impact Report, conducted by Aegis Management Consulting Group).

Stated MacGillivray, "Halifax has a strong reputation as a great events destination, based on our years of experience in delivering major events such as the CIS Men's Basketball Championship. Events-hosting has become a very competitive industry, and it is only by pulling together as a strong, united community that we will be able to sustain our bidding advantage. When an event is held in Halifax, rights holders to the event know that their event is the "only game in town" - it is fully supported by the public, by the corporate community and by our industry partners. I look forward to more good news stories over the next few years as we all work to make Halifax the best destination in North America!"

Ticket packages for this year's event will be available January 17, 2005 and can be purchased through the Halifax Metro Centre Box Office (902) 451-1221.

Get Ready for a "Hooley" of a Time!

Celebrate St. Paddy's Day and support a great cause at the fourth annual Halifax Hooley, Saturday, March 12 at the World Trade and Convention Centre. The annual fundraising event, held around St. Patrick's Day, is a chance to have fun and celebrate all things Irish, as only the Irish can. Enjoy a pre-dinner reception at 6:30pm, dinner at 7:30pm, followed by great entertainment featuring Evans & Doherty and the Halifax Hooley Band.

With good food, fine drink, and great company everyone will come together to pay homage to Ireland and to raise funds for the Prostate Cancer Research Foundation of Canada in it's efforts to eliminate a disease that takes the life of a Canadian man every two hours.

Join us on March 12th for a "Hooley" of a good time!

New Markets Opening for Nova Scotia Companies

Interested in exporting your products or services to South Carolina? It may be easier than you think!

Nova Scotia Business Inc. (NSBI) and the Atlantic Canada World Trade Centre (ACWTC) are leading a trade mission of ten Nova Scotia companies to South Carolina in February 2005. The South Carolina World Trade Centre is arranging the business matchmaking and will organize a minimum of five pre-qualified meetings per participating company.

Recognizing the importance of foreign business in South Carolina, the South Carolina World Trade Centre has positioned themselves as an Import Assistance Center to help foreign companies sell into and invest in the region. Past trade missions to South Carolina have generated almost $2.5 million in actual and predicted sales for the eight companies who participated and revealed further opportunities between our two regions that could benefit a wide range of Nova Scotian companies.

If you are interested in the South Carolina market and future trade missions to this region, please contact Wendy Luther at the ACWTC for more information, (902) 421-1302 Ext 237 or by email wendy@wtcchmc.com.
